

BIPOC

LEADERSHIP SERIES

The BIPOC Leadership Series moves participants through a progression of half-day modules targeting high-impact skills and discussions necessary for leadership and business growth. These modules are led by an array of Fox faculty and subject matter experts whose lived experiences reflect those of the program participants.

The series is ideal for individuals who are being considered for higher level managerial or director roles and above, and who have been identified as future leaders by their organizations. Participants will leave the series with well-honed skills in strong communication, effective negotiation and confident leadership. In addition, the unique opportunity to regularly network with other professionals will help leverage participants' potential for career advancement.

Series Topics & Schedule

Day 1

Understanding and Leveraging Your Leadership Style
Executive Presence and Communication Skills

Day 2

The Art of Negotiation
Finance for the Non-Financial Manager

Day 3

Leading Organizational Change
Career Management

Sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. ET, with a break for lunch from 12 p.m. to 1 p.m., via a secure Zoom link. Throughout the sessions, there will be interactive breakout work and opportunities for networking between the facilitators and participants. There will be additional post-session learning opportunities and access to a private LinkedIn group for participants.

Early Registration: $1,875 per individual participant (until 30 days before program start)

Regular Registration: $2,085 per individual participant

Discounts available for company groups, Temple alumni

For more information, contact Gregory Maughan at 215-204-3990 or gregory.maughan@temple.edu.